TOP DETECTOR CASE CRIMINALISTICS EXCELLENCE AWARD 2011

Case of the Year
Trooper Chad Mills and K9 Arco
Minnesota State Patrol

USPCA President Kevin Johnson presenting- Sponsored by Criminalistics

On February 15, 2011, at 0908 hours, Trooper Mills was parked in the center crossover of I-90 a few miles west of State Hwy 13 Junction, monitoring eastbound traffic. Trooper Mills attention was drawn to a silver Chevrolet Impala that was in the left lane. Trooper Mills activated his emergency lights and stopped the vehicle for a legal reason. While conducting the business of the stop, Trooper Mills noted several indicators of criminal activity. After Trooper Mills completed the traffic contact, he obtained written consent to search from both occupants of the vehicle. Trooper Mills retrieved his certified drug detection K9 Arco. Trooper Mills was walking downwind with K9 Arco on lead when K9 Arco broke on his own to the driver's door area and indicated by scratching on the driver's door. Trooper Mills continued around the vehicle, and K9 Arco alerted to the passenger side open window. Trooper Mills placed K9 Arco inside the vehicle, and Arco alerted while working the base of the dash, sniffing intensely and indicated on the air vent by the steering wheel.

Trooper Mills removed Arco from the vehicle and opened the hood. Arco jumped up onto the engine of the vehicle and was alerting high on the hood and worked the scent down to the vehicle battery area on the passenger side of the engine. Arco indicated by scratching on the vehicles battery. Trooper Mills examined the area of Arcos alert and noted tampering on the battery and cross member of the vehicle. There were tooling marks on the bolts and fingerprints in the dust. The vehicle was taken to a garage. Once at the shop, a search was conducted. Trooper Mills removed the battery and noted glue on the seam around the top of the battery. The top of the battery was pried off, revealing electric tape covered packages inside the battery. The suspects had removed the inside of the battery and placed a motorcycle battery inside to run the vehicle. Three packages were located in the empty areas. All three packages were wrapped in electrical tape, plastic wrap, a layer of grease, a layer of coffee grounds and a layer of pepper. The first package tested positive for methamphetamine and weighed 506 grams. Packages two and three both tested positive for cocaine. Package two was 1,138 grams, and package three was 560 grams, for a total cocaine weight of 1,698 grams.
